ACADEMY OF OUR LADY OF THE SACRED HEART

SIX MILES NORTH OF COURT-HOUSE, FORT WAYNE, ALLEN CO., INDIANA.

THIS INSTITUTION, most eligibly situated six miles from the city of Fort Wayne, offers particular advantages to persons acquiring a solid, useful and ornamental education. It is easy of access, one mile east of the Academy Station, which is twenty minutes' ride from the city, to the Jackson and Saginaw Railroad. At the same distance from said city, on the Grand Rapids Railroad, is Wallen Station, two and a half miles west of the Institution.

The English course is thorough, including, besides elementary branches, Botany, Astronomy, Chemistry, the higher Mathematics, Belles-lettres, etc. The French Language is taught by competent natives of France, and spoken in the Institution, being the language of the vicinity.

Particular attention paid to Music.

French, Vocal Music in class, and Fancy Work form no extra charge.

Pupils received at all times during the year. Non-Catholic pupils required (only for the sake of uniformity) to assist at the public exercises with propriety and decorum.

No uniform required. Letters sent and received subject to inspection.

Payment required half-yearly in advance. Books and Fancy Work can be had at the Institution at current prices.

Each pupil should have 4 towels; 4 napkins; 1 knife, fork, spoons, goblet; 1 dressing gown; 2 black aprons; 4 changes of linen; summer and winter balrmorals.

Great expense, in this Institution, is not a necessary attendant upon a thorough education—the terms being placed at a rate which, it is hoped, will prove an incentive to all who appreciate an academical course. Weekly notes, monthly bulletins, semi-annual examinations, and public distribution of premiums at the end of the scholastic year, are among the many means in use for exciting a laudable emulation. Love of intellectual pleasures, as well as easy, graceful deportment, is cultivated by weekly entertainments, consisting of Music, Readings, Declamations, etc., held in the Academy.

Conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross.

Librarian of Congress, at Washington, D. C.

INTRODUCTION.

In presenting to the public the ninth volume of the Fort Wayne City directory the publishers are confident that it will be accepted as the most complete of the series. The general plan of the work is quite the same as the preceding issues. The first 54 pages are devoted to useful miscellaneous information relating to the city in general, with lists of churches, schools, City and County officers, institutions, newspapers, incorporated companies, secret societies, etc., etc. Immediately succeeding this is the directory proper, containing 381 pages of business firms and private individuals arranged alphabetically. The remaining 64 pages comprise a classified business directory, containing the names of all persons engaged in business or professions, classified under their respective occupations.

An encouraging increase in population is apparent, and after a careful computation the publishers are able to congratulate the citizens of Fort Wayne on the possession of a population of 37,800, a large increase since the last edition of this directory was issued. This fact should be highly gratifying to the people of Fort Wayne, and is a tribute to the enterprise and energy of its citizens.

The publishers desire to express to the business and professional men of Fort Wayne their acknowledgment of the generous support which they have accorded to this work, and in conclusion would say that in the future they will be as unremitting in their endeavors to give satisfaction as they have been in the past, and they ask for liberal reciprocation from the public.

Hoffman's Patent Band Saw Mill

FOR SAWING LOGS.

Among the many advantages this mill has over Circular and Mulay Mills, we mention:

1st. SAVING OF LUMBER. Ordinary Saws cut five-sixteenths of an inch saw-kerf; our Band Saw takes one-twelfth. This makes a saving of 229 feet of lumber on each 1,000 feet of inch boards sawed.

2d. SAVING of POWER. 3d. MAKING BETTER LUMBER. 4th. FREEDOM from DANGER.

We are also prepared to furnish our Improved Patent BAND SAW MACHINES FOR SCROLL SAWING. A Mill and the small Machines can be seen in operation at our Factory in Fort Wayne. Manufactured only by J. R. HOFFMAN & CO., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"You should Insure in The PENN MUTUAL LIFE INS. CO." "WHY?" "For many reasons: It has had thirty-seven years' experience; It is the Strongest and Safest; It is Purely Mutual—its success is yours; It is most economically managed, and therefore Cheapest; Its Policies are Non-Forfeitable—you get all you pay for; It has paid Millions of Dollars to members' families, and never disputed an honest claim; Its policies are Incontestable." afloat, we cut loose shop and household, are interested in the changing scenes and in the enjoyment of solid comfort, float lazily and dream. We revel in the freedom, the dolce far niente, the pure, bracing air, the beauties of sky and sea, watch with fascination the leaping spray at the steamer's bow, fall to noting the ever-changing billows, and enter into projects for amusement started by others, or, originate them ourselves with the zest of a child.

On board a steamer we live a new, novel and fresh life, such as is never experienced on land. To those who enjoy great Nature's work, we would say:

Mackinac Island is among the grandest and most romantic of spots. Visitors are voluble with story and legend of every bold cliff and cave and fallen rock around the island, and many a pencil, brush and camera are brought to bear on the wonders found. Every section of the country sends visitors annually. The invalid is attracted by the wonderful purity of the atmosphere, the climate being noted as a sanitarium for hay fever and bronchial affections. Great numbers visit this region to escape from or get relief of these maladies; many experience an improvement on entering Lake Huron. No other resort possesses such entertaining features. The surrounding country offers endless attractions to the adventurous. Gamey fish lurk in all the inland lakes and rivers with which the State of Michigan abounds. Its forests are the hiding places of furred and feathered creatures, which afford fine sport.

Mackinac Island is reached by the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company, by the pleasant lake route, with a splendid line of palatial iron steamers, the largest, swiftest and most luxurious on fresh water, forming the only comfortable route to this island resort. These floating palaces were recently built especially for the summer tourists' travel. The forward and after saloons, in mahogany and walnut respectively, are magnificently appointed and tastefully decorated, and their elegant rooms and parlors are replete with modern improvements. The lower saloons are devoted to dining halls, which entirely separate the culinary departments from the main saloons, a desirable feature only possible on these large side-wheel steamers. Their bill of fare, which is equal to that of any first-class hotel, includes all the luxuries of the season, and the price charged barely meets the outlay. Berths are in rooms, an upper, single width, and a lower, double width, in each, are furnished with wire and hair mattresses and Pullman blankets. These steamers have water tight compartments, and their feathering paddles give unusual speed, without jar or noise. This water trip cannot be excelled anywhere, and the round trip affords a daylight view of all the route. No more comfortable place can be found outside of one's own home in which to spend the sultry days, than on board these splendidly appointed steamers. The changing scenes and fresh, bracing air, will benefit many who vainly seek relief at physicians' hands, and physicians urgently recommend this particular trip.

ACATION is a cessation of work, and a diversion of the mind into new and pleasant channels.

While it may seem like idleness to loll around at the seashore, the country farm or among the mountains, it is a repairing and oiling of the machinery, necessary to the better accomplishment of work.

If you can find rest and recreation during the sultry months, you gain thereby. A water trip best quiets the nerves, diverts the mind. We leave carping cares behind as soon as and drift away from worries and anxieties of office, study, work-

Take the Detroit & Cleveland Steam Navigation Co.'s Palace Side-Wheel Steamers.

These steamers stop at the island both ways, giving those who wish to return on the same trip, from four to six hours in which to view the curiosities and wonders, or, you can return by one of them every thirty-six hours. Tickets for transportation can be procured from any ticket agent. Round trip tickets are good for the season. The round trip occupies four and one-half days from Cleveland, or two and three-quarters days from Detroit. The few landings made en route are just sufficient to interest without being tedious. Some of your neighbors have certainly made this trip. Enquire about it.

The Cost from Cleveland—This item has received our thoughtful consideration, and is the least possible to insure complete comfort, tickets covering transportation being only $4.50 one way, or $7.00 round trip; (half fare for children between five and twelve years of age.) Meals are 50 cents each; the same for children over three years old; under that age 25 cents, and for the first table. The running time, Cleveland to Mackinac, includes five meals at 50 cents each, or $2.50 each way. Some passengers bring their own lunch. An upper berth of single width is $2.00, a lower berth of double width $3.00. Each room will accommodate three persons, by two occupying the lower berth. Put the items together, say for

This delightful trip by water of 940 miles in the round trip, occupies $4\frac{1}{2}$ days, costing only \$16.00 to \$18.00, or about \$3.75 per day. You cannot go anywhere and compass so much enjoyment and solid comfort by the way. By rail you reach Mackinac a few hours earlier possibly, which is all that can be said in its favor, and is of the least consequence when seeking, pleasure, rest and recreation. It is certainly hot and dusty, you are cramped for room, and the little strength you start with is likely to be used up, especially is this the case with ladies and children. A summer trip should be planned to get all the quiet and fresh air possible. Why do you leave home at all? Simply to reverse the excitement of business cares, the bustle, hurry and rush. Such complete relief is only found by taking a water trip, the scenery is varied and attractive, and there is ample time for a good look at every interesting object. One way by steamer would be better than all rail. The outside expenses by rail will pay the cost by water. Have you taken this view of the matter?

Steamers City of Detroit and Northwest, which form the Lake Erie Division with a nightly service (Sundays excepted) leave Cleveland at 20.30 o'clock, arrive at Detroit the following morning at 5.30 o'clock. Returning, leave Detroit at 22.00 o'clock, arrive Cleveland 5.30 o'clock, standard time. The fare between the two cities is $2.25 single trip, which is one-half of rail fare, or $4.00 round trip. Upper berths are $1.00, lower berths $1.50. Among the advanced steps taken by this Company is that of not including the cost of berths in the ticket fare, which happily disposes of the vexatious question, how to best care for the comfort of our patrons. Commercial travelers, usually confined to the hot, dusty, noisy rail car, avail themselves of the charming quiet, cool, fresh air and the luxury of a full night's rest afforded by this night line by water.

Passengers can time it to make close connections at Detroit with steamers City of Mackinac and City of Alpena, which form the Lake Huron Division and leave every Wednesday and Friday mornings at 10 o'clock, Monday and Saturday nights at 22.00 o'clock for Mackinac and principal Lake Huron ports. The quickest trip and closest connection is made by taking steamer City of Detroit Tuesday or Thursday evening from Cleveland. Breakfast on board before reaching the Company's wharf.

The Cost from Detroit—Transportation is $3.00 single, or $5.00 round trip. The running time includes four meals at 50 cents, or $2.00 each way. An upper berth of single width is $1.00, a lower berth of double width is $1.50 for the trip.

This delightful trip from Detroit to Mackinac by water, a distance of 740 miles in the round trip, occupying 2½ days, costing only $11.00 or $12.00, or about $4.00 per day, is within the reach of a large number who make a practice of leaving home for a short time during the summer months.

It is not expensive by steamer.

These steamers being side-wheelers and large, afford the utmost comfort.

Parties who intend taking the Wednesday or Friday morning steamer, and arrive in Detroit Tuesday or Thursday evening, will be accommodated with rooms for those nights without extra charge, if applied for early in the evening at the General Passenger Office.

The Trip to Mackinac. The steamer City of Detroit or Northwest leaves the Company's wharf, 23 River street, Cleveland, at 20.30 o'clock. Fifteen minutes are consumed in getting out of the river. A bright light on the port bow marks the crib built as a protection to the lake tunnel through which the city receives its water supply. From the end of the piers our steamer heads for Point Pelee Light, sometimes called the Dummy, which is fifty miles from Cleveland and sixty from Detroit. Point Pelee is a headland on the Canadian shore, projecting several miles into the lake at the entrance to Pigeon Bay, and with the many islands in the vicinity, form the most picturesque scenery on Lake Erie. We then head for Point Pelee Island Light. This island contains a few inhabitants, and abounds in red cedar and fine limestone. Several small islands lie to the south, called East Middle and West Sister, Hen and Chickens, North, Middle and South Bass, Put-In-Bay and Kelley's Island, the latter famous for its grape culture and native wines. From Point Pelee Island we run across Pigeon Bay to Colchester light ship, then to Bar Point light ship near the entrance to Detroit river. If you care to rise at this hour—about four—you will be well repaid by the early morning trip up the river. The river is twenty-seven miles long, and one-half to three miles wide, with a current of three miles per hour.

On the left, just before reaching Detroit, is Fort Wayne, which is garrisoned and mounted with heavy ordnance. We land at the Michigan Central railroad depot, at 5.30 o'clock in the morning, for passengers for the interior who go by rail. Mackinac passengers have breakfast on this steamer, after which we proceed to the Company's Wayne street wharf, where on Wednesday and Friday mornings the steamer City of Mackinac or City of Alpena are found nearly ready to sail. Mondays and Saturdays they do not leave until night, which gives an excellent opportunity to view the beauties of Detroit.

A trip of thirty hours by the City of Mackinac Wednesday mornings at 10 o'clock, and Saturday nights at 22 o'clock, or the City of Alpena Monday nights at 22 o'clock, and Friday mornings at 10 o'clock brings you to the great historic summer resort and sanitarium, Mackinac Island. At the hour of departure from Detroit our steamer springs on the stern line, and swings out towards the middle of the river, clear of all obstructions, and in a moment is under full speed. Taking the channel on the east or Canadian side of Belle Isle Park, our course lies straight across Lake St. Clair, which is 22 miles long and 22 wide, to the St. Clair Flats. The entrance to St. Clair river through the narrow winding channels at this point was formerly attended with great danger. To improve and shorten the entrance, the U. S. Government constructed a ship canal, which was completed in 1871, at a cost of $653,550. It is 8,200 feet long, 200 feet wide, and 16 feet deep.

The St. Clair Flats belong to the government, and those who have built cottages, hotels and club houses, hold possession by the right of Squatter Sovereignty only. The buildings are set on dry land, made with earth dredged from around each site. Before many years the bank on the American side will be lined with public and private resorts. The St. Clair river is 48 miles long, $1\frac{1}{2}$ wide, and is the connecting link between the great upper and lower lakes, the water of which will pass over Niagara Falls and down the St. Lawrence river a few weeks hence. Unlike the great Mississippi, the beautiful Hudson, and other famous rivers, the waters of the St. Clair are always clear. Not only does the traffic upon this river impress one with the vastness of the commerce of the great lakes, but its continually changing panoramic views produce a lasting effect on the mind. A pen description can scarcely do justice to this magnificent stream, which possesses a magnetic attraction that of itself draws pleasure and health seekers to its shores.

It is the finest and purest stream of water in the world, the pride of the people who reside on its banks, and the admiration of tourists. These steamers stop on the river at Marine City and St. Clair on the up trip only. Port Huron is an important distributing point for the company's business to and from upper ports and points in the interior of Canada and Michigan. From Port Huron to the lake the river narrows, and the large volume of water poured into Lake Erie, causes a strong, rapid current. Passengers who are destined for Goderich and the Manitoba Country leave us here and cross the river to take the Sarnia line of steamers. The steamers do not stop at Fort Gratiot, as passengers who have come from Montreal and other points in Canada are taken by the Grand Trunk railway to Port Huron only a mile below. The steamers City of Mackinac and City of Alpena leave Port Huron going north Wednesday and Friday evenings at 16.30 o'clock, and Tuesday and Sunday mornings at 7.00 o'clock.

There has been so much of interest to take the attention for the past six hours that the trip through the lake is a pleasant relief. From this out all points of interest are seen on the port side, the Canadian shore being far away. We get outside, and from "abreast" of Fort Gratiot light the steamer is put on her course for $3\frac{1}{2}$ hours, which brings us to within 5 miles of Sand Beach, when we "haul in" for the harbor of refuge. The captain, who likes "lots of sea room," keeps well out into the lake. These large, iron steamers are not obliged to conform to the old adage, "Small boats must keep near the shore."

A short stay at this port, and our steamer resumes her course. Five minutes takes us outside the breakwater, and we head for Point Au Barques light, which is reached in one hour. This point is at the entrance to Saginaw Bay, which is crossed in two and one-half hours, a distance of 45 miles. This is the only stretch where land is lost sight of.

After passing this light, two trails of black smoke may be observed on the horizon. It comes from a sister steamer, which is due to pass at this half-way place. Officers and passengers are interested, and as the steamers pass, exchange a salute of whistles, shouts and waving of handkerchiefs. It is only for an instant, both are running at high speed, and are soon far apart. Our steamer's speed has brought into view the distant smoke of another steamer, going our way; she left Detroit twelve or fourteen hours ahead of us. We are fast overhauling her, and passengers become interested as they notice that great clouds of black smoke are thrown out more frequently from her one smoke-stack, in the vain effort to keep away from us. The fact is, the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company's steamers are expected to pass everything they meet without extra effort.

"See! we are gaining on her!" "Yes, we will pass her within fifteen minutes."

"How fast are we going?" "Sixteen or seventeen miles an hour."

"How fast are they?" "Ten or twelve miles an hour. Some are not over eight."

"Do they carry passengers?" "A few. They run into small ports that this line doesn't touch, and because it was thought, naturally, that leaving twelve hours earlier, they would arrive at their destination as much in advance, but we will get through first, nevertheless, and this steamer on her return trip, will meet her again somewhere out in the lake, still working her way up slowly."

"Why, our steamer must get back to Detroit again a long way ahead!" "Oh, yes, she'll make two round trips while the other makes one. In the fall when the weather is rough, the steamers of this line run in and out of their ports about on time, leaving other steamers tied up to a wharf for favorable weather, while they are making one or two round trips."

"Then passengers miss it by taking any but this line?" "It makes no difference how anxious you are to get through, it's better to wait for the City of Mackinac or City of Alpena. You'll arrive at Mackinac Island ahead, every time, and even at Alpena as soon. When the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company first established their line to Mackinac three years ago, with their elegant steamer City of Alpena (then called City of Cleveland) it was regarded as an experiment only, and short lived; the public were consequently slow in giving their hearty support to so much enterprise. The Company demonstrated their own confidence, however, by contracting for still another iron steamer of equal elegance, the City of Mackinac, which was put into commission the following season. These two beautiful steamers have now become household words, not only among the people along their route, but among the tourist public from distant parts, until their fame has reached all portions of our country and Canada, and the Company's methods and business principles have built up an important traffic in a wonderfully short time. But here we go past our friend, like an arrow shot from a bow, the craft soon becomes a mere speck, and our steamer is suddenly headed towards the shore for Oscoda. The arrivals of the steamers of this line are always an attraction for the people along the shore. Leaving the wharf again the steamer backs out for a quarter of a mile into the lake. The wheelsman throws his wheel over hard-a-port, and we run two miles straight out from the wharf in order to clear Miller's point, and a series of shoals extending from the main land, then throwing the wheel a-starboard, head for Harrisville. When directly opposite, she is headed at right angles from her course for the wharf. But few lake ports have a harbor, and are obliged to build piers out into the open lake. Leaving the wharf again, we pass Sturgeon Point Light, then South Point, and when abreast of Thunder Bay river, shift the course a few points, and run into the river for Alpena.

How long will it take to reach the wharf? We can give no time as it depends altogether on the condition of things. The lumber kings may have been running logs down to their mills and choked it up, and some little time may be lost finding a tug to pull us in. While the city government clears up and improves the highways through town, their single, narrow highway of water is neglected, and the steam craft who serve them, unjustly suffer a heavy expense for tugs, broken wheels and loss of time.

There is a steamer close by us, she is lying still as though waiting for something. What does it mean? It is simply one of those cases where there is but little system used in the navigation of vessels, and although you can see by the moonlight that there is a broad expanse of water in the bay, still the safe channel is somewhat narrow, and unless steamers are careful to run in by a proper course, there is a chance of getting aground. Our friend is not sure of his bearings, and is waiting to follow us in, taking advantage of our courses. You may notice this lack of confidence frequently. Four officers are constantly watching the course of our steamer, and any variation would receive their prompt attention. This river is an important factor in the prosperity of Alpena. Approaching it by water the view is one which, though it may disappoint the searcher for the picturesque, means to the business man energy, bustling life, and commercial prosperity. The singing saws, rattling trucks, noisy mill engines, and numberless steam and sailing vessels passing in and out cannot but give to the practical observer the impression of a flourishing town; and indeed a happier combination of fertile resources and undaunted energy than is centered in this pleasant little city of the lakes would be hard to find. Lake captains say that during heavy fogs in the day time, the song of the saws, unlike the mythical siren lays that lured sailors to destruction, often helps them to find the entrance. While our steamer is discharging freight it will be interesting to take a stroll through the town, but keep watch of the whistle which is sounded for her departure.

Between Detroit and Cleveland. Four times each week between Detroit and Mackinac.

Our company has been considerably reduced, and as preparations are going on for leaving port again, we find a new order of things. With care the steamer worked her way into the river, but it is another thing to get her out again. Between the floating logs and the crowded river, which is too narrow to admit of winding around, it becomes necessary to employ a tug, which takes our line and tows us out stern first, until clear of the piers, and room enough is found to handle the steamer. Our course lies well out into the lake, with the shore in sight all the way, and is a most interesting trip. On parting with the tug, our steamer keeps the shore aboard three miles away, giving the reefs of North Point, which extend two miles from land about the same distance. We round Thunder Bay Island Light as we come abreast of it, giving a wide berth to the shoals at the foot of the island, then come abreast of the light a second time, and resume our course northward. Many a craft has come to grief at this point, from over anxiety to get on her course. Life saving stations are located near this light, also at Middle Island and Forty Mile Point, in Hammond's Bay, at the north, and at Sturgeon Point, Ottawa Point, Port Austin and Point Aux Barques on the south.

Off our course, six miles to the north, when abreast of Middle Island, lies False Presque Isle, which has a fine lake. The bold, abrupt shore of Presque Isle admits of running close in, and affords a fine view. We make a short call at Rogers City. Spectacle Reef Light, seen in the distance, is most romantically located. Out by itself on a small flat rock, ten miles from shore, this light stands one hundred feet above the waters of the lake.

Suddenly the order comes "Starboard," and as the steamer's bow gradually turns towards the shore, Cheboygan river unexpectedly opens up to view, and we plow our way among lumber piles and floating logs, which so block the harbor at times that the services of another tug is required to take us in and out. Propellers, with their wheels less exposed, make things lively, and take out logs, boom and all into the lake. Here is an instance where it would seem that "might makes right," the pleasure of the lumber kings being more potent at Cheboygan than the local government, which they are largely instrumental in creating. Were a lot of farm wagons to block their street, the owners would soon be brought to account from these same obstructionists, but the shipping, the best element of their prosperity, must bear these indignities without redress. On arriving at the wharf, many passengers for Petoskey leave us and take the pleasant inland route through the crooked lakes and rivers. It is a novel trip, without it those who make their first visit to Mackinac fall short of a complete tour, and in connection with the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company, it forms the only attractive and comfortable route from the east and south to this paradise for rest and recreation. Some make their first visit to Mackinac and take the inland route from there, or go down by rail at their leisure.

As the whistle sounds the warning of departure, stragglers hasten on board, the gang plank is hauled in, and the steamer, tied to the wharf by a stern line, and laboring hard with the engine, slowly swings round in the narrow river, and works her way into the lake, or is towed out to the dummy light. Rounding this, we head for Mackinac Island, which looms up sixteen miles away. Its magnetic influence seems to be felt even at this distance. There is much to interest in this short run. A landscape of unrivaled beauty is spread out before us. On the port bow is seen Mackinac City, and farther on to the northwest looms up on the horizon the island of St. Helena.

The many trails of smoke in the distance are from steamers passing to and from Lake Michigan. Directly ahead are Rabbit's Back and the highlands of St. Ignace, at whose feet lies the town, apparently walled in by the Martel iron furnace on the left and ore docks on the right. On the starboard bow we see what seems to be one long, continuous stretch of shore, but which breaks away as we approach, and proves to be Bois Blanc, (Bob-low) Round and Mackinac Islands. In just fifty minutes from the Dummy, the captain is on a sharp look-out for the glimpse of Bois Blanc Light, (or its flash by night) which, being on the farther side of the island, can only be seen for a moment as we pass the intervening water to Round Island. On its reappearance on the other side of Round Island, the course is changed, and Mackinac Island and village are distinctly seen, another change, and the steamer, with a sudden turn swings quickly and gracefully into the crescent bay, upon whose shores once dwelt the red-skinned Ottawa, and about whose island home, rising three hundred feet above the clear, blue waters, still cluster the mystic halo of song, romance and legend.

MACKINAC ISLAND, the rock girt, fairy isle, sitting like an emerald gem in the clear, pellucid wave, rises gradually and majestically from the crystal waters, which cover but cannot conceal the glistening, white pebbly depths beneath. It is the central point of the three great lakes. It knows no land breeze, hence the winds are always cool and refreshing, and seem incessantly tossing balls at each other. They no sooner cease blowing from Lake Michigan than they come from Lake Huron, and Lake Superior is never behind in the contest. Mackinac Island contains two thousand two hundred and twenty-one acres, of which the national park comprises eight hundred and twenty-one, and the military reservation one hundred and three acres. The natural scenery is unsurpassed. Nature seems to have exhausted herself in the manifold objects of interest which meet the eye in every direction. The lover of Mother Earth will hardly grow weary of wandering through its shaded glens, and climbing over its rugged rocks, each day bringing to light some new object of beauty and interest. Longfellow, in his poem of "Hiawatha" has put into English verse some of its wild Indian legends, which people every rock and glen with spectral habitants. Hiawatha is the Mena-bosho of the Algonquins, and the Island of Mackinac was considered his birthplace.

If the poetic muses are ever to have a new Parnassus in America, they should certainly fix on Mackinac Island. Hygeia, too, should place her temple here, for it is one of the purest, dryest, clearest and most healthful of atmospheres. The Island shows unmistakable evidence of the water having once been two hundred and fifty feet above its present line. It is a mooted question whether the lake has fallen from its original level, or the island has, from some cause, been lifted up. Springs of water, clear and cold, may be found at the base of the high cliffs, and scattered through other localities.

Mackinac village is a perfect curiosity in itself. Situated at the foot of the bluff, upon the brow of which stands the fort, it extends for a distance of a mile along the beach. The buildings are a mixture of the modern and antique, some of which were brought from Old Mackinaw when the town and fort were removed from that point after the massacre of June 4, 1763. Many of the fences are of the original palisade style.

Schoolcraft, who visited it in 1820, says: "Nothing can exceed the beauty of this island." It is a mass of calcareous rock, rising from the bed of Lake Huron, and reaching a height of more than three hundred feet above the water. Some of its cliffs shoot up perpendicularly, and tower in pinnacles like half ruined gothic steeples. It is cavernous in some places, and in these caverns the ancient Indians were wont to place their dead. Portions of the beach are level, and well adapted to landing from boats. The harbor at the south end is a little gem. In it, vessels can anchor and be sure of a holding, and around it, the little old fashioned French town nestles in primitive style, while above frowns the fort, its white walls gleaming in the sun. The whole area of the island is one labyrinth of curious glens and valleys. Old fields appear in spots which were formerly cultivated by Indians. In some of them are circles of gathered stones, as if the Druids themselves had dwelt there. The soil, though rough, is fertile. The Island was formerly covered with a dense growth of rock maple, oak, iron wood, etc., and there are still parts of this ancient forest left, but all the southern limits exhibit a young growth. There are walks and winding paths of the most romantic character among its hills and precipices. From the eminences overlooking the lake can be seen magnificent views of almost illimitable extent.

You will make no mistake if you go a little out of your way

The late Dr. Drake says: "The island is the last, and, of the whole, the most important summer resort to which we can direct the attention of the infirm or the fashionable. The living streams of pure water, cooled down to the temperature of 44°, gush from the lime rock precipices, and an atmosphere never sultry or malarious, supersedes all necessity for nauseating iron, sulphur and epsom salts. As a health resort it is unsurpassed. Its cool air and pure water are just what are needed to bring back the glow of health to the faded cheek, and send the warm currents of life dancing through the system with youthful vigor." Its natural beauties and historic associations, together with the innumerable lesser attractions which cluster round about, serve to furnish visitors with so much entertainment and variety for either the robust or weakly ones, that ennui which eventually is felt at most resorts need not be experienced here. In Mackinac you eat with a new relish, and sleep like a child. You row, or ramble, scarcely able to keep your buoyancy within bounds. Dr. Mills, once post surgeon at Mackinac, says: "No better place can be found for sickly girls and puny boys, for worn out men and women, whether from overworked brain or muscle, or for those inclined to hypochondria. A change from the tiresome sameness of home scenes cannot fail to benefit all. From the hour of entering Lake Huron, your feelings will indicate that you have passed beyond the reign of miasma, fever, dyspepsia, blue devils and duns, and you look back upon the whole of them with gay indifference, or a feeling of good-natured contempt, as every turn of the steamer's wheel carries you farther into the temperate and genial climate of the lakes, and away from your perplexities. Under these influences real diseases may abate, and the imaginary ones be forgotten. In the celebrated white fish (classical name, coregonus albus, signifying food of the nymphs), is found a native whose acquaintance is liable to but one objection, that of destroying the taste for any other fish, and which, with the trout and potatoes of the island render all foreign delicacies superfluous. We would caution the gourmand, however, against an excessive use of trout, which are said to produce drowsiness, for those who visit Mackinac should be wide awake, lest some scene of interest should pass unobserved.

Besides the agreeable change of climate on reaching Mackinac, there is the new sensation to one who has not before enjoyed the novelty of an insular life, of having found an island retreat. To his jaded sensibilities all around him is fresh, a feeling of security comes over him, and when, from the rocky battlements of the fort, he looks down on the surrounding waters, they seem a bulwark of defense against the host of annoyances from which he has sought a refuge. Thus the curative state of mind begins to act on the body from the first moment, and this salutary mental excitement will not soon die away, for the historic associations, not less than the surrounding scenery, are well fitted to maintain it, and to make the invalid forget his ailments. Dr. Mann says, "A few whiffs of the air would make your lungs give a hygienic laugh. This air must have been left clear out of Eden, and did not get cursed. Children are crazy with animal spirits, and eat in such a way as to demonstrate the paradox that the quantity contained may be greater than the container." These extracts will no doubt meet with a hearty response from thousands who have visited Mackinac.

At watering-places generally, all the features of the surrounding scenery are soon familiarized to the eye, which then merely wanders over the commingled throngs of coquettes, dandies, dancers and idlers, and soon returns to inspect the real or fancied infirmities of its possessor. A visit to Mackinac reverses all this. The attractions of the surrounding region are of a different and more wholesome kind, and draw to them those who seek health and recreation, and offer a delightful hot weather asylum to all who need to escape from crowded cities or a sultry climate. Besides this, the voyage imparts a pleasing excitement to the faculty of observation, curiosity is stirred up to the highest pitch, and pleasantly gratified by the hourly unfolding of fresh scenes of nature, some new blending of land and water, a group of islands different from the last, or a shifting series of painted clouds seen in the kaleidoscope of heaven afford constant variety, while the frequent trips of the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company's steamers enable you to return as soon as desired.

Constance Fennimore Woolson knew the charm of the place when she made it the scene of so many romances, among them being the novel "Anne," and the short sketches, "Flower of the Snows," "The Old Agency," "Jeannette," and "Fairly Island."

To reach the Detroit & Cleveland Steam Navigation Co.'s Steamers.

AULT ST. MARIE, via Potoskey and Mackinac Island. One of the grandest trips in the world. How B. and W. spent a week.

The beautiful steamer "City of Mackinac" left Detroit at 22 o'clock Saturday night, landing us in Cheboygan Monday morning, at 5 o'clock. A stroll through the town gave an appetite for breakfast, which was obtained at the hotel near by. The steamer

"Mary" came in from Mackinac Island, and left the adjoining wharf, at 9 o'clock for a trip to Potoskey, by the wonderfully novel and attractive Inland Route, through crooked rivers and beautiful lakes. Our baggage was transferred to this landing without expense, and we boarded the little steamer, which headed up the Cheboygan, picking her way through logs, which generally obstruct the river. An industry peculiar to northern Michigan was indicated by busy sawmills; and though piles of lumber obstructed our view, we caught glimpses of our winding course, in time to save a dawning conviction that the trip must end there. A sharp angle brought to view a lock, the rear gate of which was closed. On our entering, the water from the river, ten feet above, was gradually let in from the bottom, and our craft lifted to the upper level.

Three miles above this point, Black river empties into the Cheboygan, and is the outlet of Black lake, which is twelve miles from the junction of the two rivers, and covers an area of six by four miles. Rapids, within a few miles of the lake, make further navigation by steamer impossible. A panorama of beautiful landscape is opened as we proceed, and Mullet lake, with its placid waters, wooded shores and attractive spots for camping was reached before noon. The lake is six miles above Cheboygan, and is a beautiful body of water, twelve miles long, and from five to eight wide. It is full of fish, and its borders abound in game. Into it empty Pigeon, Indian and Sturgeon rivers. On the right, nearly across the lake, is Toppinabee. The Northern Hay Fever Association, Pike's Hotel, Railway station, telegraph office and stores are located here. Three miles farther on is the Mullet Lake House, where we stopped for dinner. This fine summer hotel, which is situated on a beautiful spot overlooking the lake, cost $50,000, has seventy-five large, airy rooms, elegantly furnished, and is especially attractive for families, being a paradise for children. The house opens June 20.

Soon after dinner, we proceeded by a smaller steamer, the "Northern Belle," which though drawing but thirty inches of water, often gets very near the bottom. At the bend in the river one could easily jump ashore from bow or stern. This species of miniature navigation presents many little surprises to the tourist, which serve to while away the hours and fill the mind with pleasant recollections.

Soon after leaving the Mullet Lake house, we entered Indian river, which some poet has likened to a "silver thread on Nature's carpet." Seven miles of beautiful river scenery, and Indian river village is reached, five of these crooked miles, which cover all points of the compass, would make only three as the crow flies. Fishing and shooting parties in boats, were met, and towed by our accommodating captain to points farther on. After leaving this romantic little village, we had fallen into a quiet contemplation of our novel surroundings, when we were startled out of our reveries by a shrill whistle, seemingly coming but a few feet away from the bank of the river, and the next moment we were hardly less surprised to see the small steam yacht "Louie" suddenly shoot out from behind a bend just ahead. It seemed a saucy affair, both the whistle and the sudden appearance; the little craft as much as saying: "Look out there! I claim the right of way here!" She contained a pleasure part; and the engineer, some eight years of age, sat unconcernedly by the boiler, answering signals given by the captain at the wheel. It seemed at times impossible to navigate so crooked a stream, the steamer going at the bank as if it meant to jump it, but a clever turn of the wheel brought us out all right, causing little damage—to the shore.

A conspicuous sign on the bank indicated that the cluster of Indian huts, settler's cabins and tents of tourists was styled "Columbus Landing," and while gazing at it, the steamer shot into Burt's lake, unnoticed. An odd looking steam craft seen off at a distance, proved to be a floating saw-mill, which ties up to the farmer's docks, and saws their lumber almost at their doors. At the small wharves along the shore, the steamer, if signalled, will stop. In case there is no landing, passengers frequently come out in small boats. Burt's lake is ten miles long and five wide. It is fed by Crooked, Maple and Sturgeon rivers, all large streams. Maple river is also the outlet of Douglass lake, which lies two miles north. Once across this lake we suddenly swung in apparently for the shore, but no; it proved to be for the mouth of a river, narrower and more crooked than we had yet seen. The passage of Crooked river, seven miles long, was the most highly interesting and novel portion of the trip. We wondered how the steamer would be able even to enter, as floating logs filled all the space, the very mouth being closed by a boom to keep them in. A rope was hitched to the stake, which the steamer pulled out, letting the boom go, and we went at the jam of logs at full speed, jumping some, pushing others with pike poles, and so making our way in amongst them. The river drivers, with red pantaloons and spiked boots, skipped around on the logs with a careless indifference to their uncertain footing, that would have sent a novice into the water at short notice. With their pike poles they rendered efficient aid, and after much pushing, pulling and butting, we finally got clear. Once more well into the river, our attention was absorbed with the navigating of the little steamer. Owing to the narrow, winding course, at times it seemed impossible to go farther, but by making very short turns and winding around abrupt angles, we threaded the labyrinth, being able, quite often, to pick evergreens from the shore on either side. Bump she would go into the bank, her stern swinging in, and off again for the opposite bank, and so on for miles. A short distance beyond the jam of logs, a lighter, containing kitchen and bunks, was being floated along, to be within easy reach for meals and shelter for the men on the drive just passed. Farther on was the tail end of the drive, a single man gathering stray logs into a raft, his boat tied astern. It was all very interesting, the scenery beautiful and the whole affair novel in the extreme. We shortly entered Crooked lake; which is five miles long, and famous for bass fishing, and numerous delightful locations for camping along its shores. In a few moments we were landed in the woods at Odin, at the head of the lake; and we bade good bye to the little steamer and its good natured captain with regret.

The Dummy, another novelty, was waiting at the station to take us the last eight miles of our journey, over the G. R. & I. R. R. track, to Petoskey. Its open cars afforded a splendid view en route, of the Bay View, Harbor Springs and Point resorts for cottagers. As we looked across the beautiful bay, the whole scene reminded us of an amphitheatre on a grand scale. Our train stopped at the Arlington hotel in time for supper, and a stroll about the young but famous town, before the departure of the train for Mackinac City, 33 miles away. We then took the ferry steamer "Algomah" for Mackinac Island, 7 miles distant. Some of our fellow passengers stopped at Mackinaw City over night, at the Wentworth house, which is over the railroad station, and went over to the Island in the morning.

While this is only Monday night, we have seen so much, and every moment has been so thoroughly full of enjoyment, it seems a week since we left our busy cares behind. A stay on Mackinac Island until Wednesday morning affords an opportunity of seeing the wonders of the place, so wisely reserved by the government as a national park, about which so much has been written, and to which so many pilgrimages are annually made, increasing steadily each year, as returning tourists tell of the sights seen, and the invigorating influences of the delightful trip.

On this trip, however, our time being short, we hunted up the "charioteer" before retiring, and engaged a seat in the chariot for a morning ride over the "Star Route," which comprises the most wonderful of the many wonders to be found. Fifty cents was the charge for this ride of about 7 miles. Another trip is made in the afternoon, or one can take a carriage and go farther. A walk over the by-paths will also be interesting. Here, invalids, who would hardly think of doing so at home, walk long distances in the bracing air without fatigue. One of the ferry steamers generally makes the trip to Hundred Islands (Le Che-neaux) for the day. This disposed of Tuesday, and the following morning, after breakfast, one of the day steamers called, on her way from Cheboygan, and we jumped aboard for a trip up the beautiful Soo river (Sault St. Marie). Skirting the rocky cliffs of the Isle, we passed down the west shore of Lake Huron. At noon a landing was made at Detour, just at the entrance to the land locked waters of the Soo, whose repeated changes from a narrow entrance to a broad lake, then to a narrow, rapid river, and again to lakes, rivers and rapids, and its crooked courses around islands, which the currents have thus far failed to wash away, form a varied and charming experience scarcely ever surpassed. The passage of the Soo river must be made by daylight, and vessels are timed accordingly. Should they arrive at night, they anchor until the early dawn. The steamers of this line are the only ones that make the passage by mid-day. The channels are narrow, shallow and crooked. Boulders and shoals hidden just out of sight, lie all about, and sailors keep a sharp look-out here. The Sault St. Marie river connects lakes Superior and Huron, is sixty-two miles in length, and forms the boundary between the United States and Canada. Its mouth is a mile wide. Drummond's Island lies on the east, the main shore of Michigan on the west of the entrance. Pipe Island is four miles; St. Joseph's Island, Canada, with its old fort, eight miles; Lime Island ten miles; and Round Island eleven miles from the entrance. Potagannissing Bay, dotted with numerous small islands lying to the eastward, communicates with the north channel. Mud lake, six miles farther on, is four miles in width. Sailor's Encampment Island is twenty miles from Lake Huron, and is a famous camping place. There is excellent fishing and shooting; and supplies, small boats and small steam craft can be readily obtained. Here are found families, parties and fishing and shooting clubs, who for a short period seek relief from the strain of business, social and domestic cares, and the stifling atmosphere of closely packed cities. With a simple outfit consisting of wall tent, rubber and woolen blankets, a few tin dishes, and a compliment of cast-off clothing, they leave their homes, offices and school-rooms; and come out to this delightful region, assume the free habits of the natives, eat, sleep and are merry as seldom before, gain health and strength from the first breath of the pure, dry air of this wonderful Mackinac region, and return to their various callings with renewed vigor and a new lease of life. Hay fever sufferers, who are wise, come before the appearance of the annual attack, and wholly escape the malady, while even the tardy ones find their sufferings at once mitigated.

Continuing our course, the steamer seems to be heading straight for the shore, until a narrow outlet comes suddenly into view, and we enter the Nebish Rapids, passing between Sailor's Encampment and St. Joseph's Islands. From this on is to be seen the most varied and charming scenery. Indian villages, settlements and beautiful farms, serve to make a most interesting panorama. Lake George, six miles farther on, is an expansion of the river, nine miles long and four wide. It has thirteen feet of water over the shoals, and terminates at Church's Landing. Squirrel Island, Canada, lies opposite. Garden River Settlement, three miles distant, is an Indian town in Canada. Little Lake George comes next, then Point Aux Pines. Three miles farther, we pass around the head of Sugar Island, and eight miles beyond reach Sault St. Marie, fifty-five miles from Lake Huron at six o'clock in the evening, having supper on the steamer. Sault St. Marie is fifteen miles from Lake Superior, and there is much that is interesting about the odd old place. Here is situated the famous ship canal, built by the State of Michigan for the purpose of passing the rapids. The U. S. Government enlarged this canal, and constructed a new ship lock 615 feet long and 80 feet wide, having a lift of 18 feet. The scene witnessed on passing through the canal locks, is most interesting and exciting. The ship canal, river, island, and the two villages are in sight on either side of the stream. The Indians in their birch canoes are engaged in taking white fish below the rapids.

And ne'er till lost is mem'ry's power,
Shall we forget the thrilling hour

Fort Brady, erected in 1823, is an old and important U. S. military post. Contiguous to this Indian village, it commands the St. Mary's river and the ship canal.

From "Picturesque Mackinac," Published and Sold by the Author.

In the vicinity of the Sault St. Marie are several streams where sportsmen go in search of speckled trout. The nearest points are the rapids on both sides of St. Mary's river, and the small streams between the islands on the Canadian side. There are also several places from one to five miles above and below the falls where anglers resort. Indians, or half breeds, with canoes, have to be employed as guides. Our evening was fully occupied inspecting the government works, which well repay a visit. The immense and perfect structure of masonry, the water power made to run all the machinery necessary to operate the monster gates of the lock, and the dynamos which furnish the electric lighting, were perfect in all details, and quite in keeping with these was the neat, tidy appearance of all the surroundings. The ingenuity of man is conspicuous in the easy manner with which this ponderous affair is manipulated. As all the shipping from the lower lakes passes through this canal, tourists for Lake Superior have a choice of numerous steamers of either the American lines, via the south shore, or the Canadian lines, via the north shore route. We witnessed the locking of the most considerable amount of tonnage which had ever passed through the canal at one time. It consisted of two of the largest steam barges, with two immense consorts. The advantages of taking the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company's route to the Soo are: it takes the west shore of Lake Huron, the passage of the rivers by mid-day, and includes the attractions of Petoskey and Mackinac Island at the least expenditure of time and money. Leaving Cleveland Tuesday or Thursday evening, and rising at four, the first morning only, all the interesting features are seen by daylight.

Thursday morning, at 6 o'clock, we commenced our return trip, arriving at Mackinac at 16 o'clock, and in two hours our favorite City of Mackinac came in from the south again. We went on board for supper, while the steamer crossed to St. Ignace and back, and bidding the island a final adieu at 20.30 o'clock, arrived at Detroit Saturday morning at 1.10 o'clock. As we had until 22 o'clock that evening before the steamer left for Cleveland, where she would arrive early the following morning, we enjoyed the pleasure of showing the beauties of our own city to our fellow passengers from the southern terminus of the route.

An Enchanted Spot.—Says the well-known writer, Miss Alice E. Ives, in the Detroit Post, Aug. 11, 1884, "I never had much faith in the attractions of Mackinac. I supposed that people went there because it was the correct and fashionable thing to do, or because the guide books had deluded the public with highly colored descriptions, and that there was considerably more talk than cider about the whole thing. Consequently when I took the City of Mackinac for the round trip it was with the settled conviction not to remain more than a few hours. I was deaf to all entreaties to stay. I pleaded work which could not wait and a wardrobe which was all contained in a shawl strap. * * * 'It will well repay you,' urged a friend who had seen nearly all this country, and part of Europe, and I began to weaken. * * *

When the steamer ran up to the wharf and the familiar faces of many Detroiters nodded a pleasant welcome from below, I was far enough in the toils to feebly acquiesce in the proposal to see what could be done about accommodations. * * * The charm of the place had begun to tell upon me. * * * We climbed to the top of the bluff, entered the citadel, and looked over the parapet on one of the grandest views of the world. The great blue lake seemed to lap the yellow sands with a soft caress, and to fold upon its bosom the far-away purple shores drowsing in the still air of the dying day. * * * It needed no Calypso to make the thralldom perfect. * * * I determined when I did go back it should be on the City of Mackinac. It was so clean, so pretty, so sweet even to daintiness, and so strong and staunch, the officers were so gentlemanly, and the discipline and attendance so perfect, I couldn't think of stepping foot on any other steamer. This meant a longer stay, but I didn't seem to mind that now, and when our friend embarked for the down trip, I regarded him with a sort of pity, as one who had turned his back upon paradise. * * * Quaint old legends haunt every wooded knoll, cave, bluff and romantic walk. The opportunities for strolling and exploring are legion, and when tired there is always the luring charm of the pebbly beach, and the great expanse of blue waters. The old settlers are fruitful subjects for study. * * * As we once more stood on the deck of the beautiful steamer City of Mackinac, a lady said: 'It seems as if we were only sailing away for a little while and that we must surely come back to it again, as if we could never quite leave the enchanted island.' Verily Mackinac is an enchanted island, and unlike the land of the lotus eaters, where it was always afternoon, it seems with its fresh, clear, invigorating air to be always morning."

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

For detailed information see Maps and Folders, obtainable, as well as Tickets, at all principal Ticket Offices in the United States and Canada; or by addressing President and General Manager, Chicago.

SHORT LINE. The use of the term "Short Line" in connection with the corporate name of a great road, conveys the idea of just what is required by the traveling public—a Short Line, Quick Time and the Best of Accommodations—all of which are furnished by the greatest railway in America.

CHICAGO,

MILWAUKEE

ST. PAUL.

It owns and operates over 4,500 miles of road in Northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Dakota, and as its main lines, branches and connections reach all the great business centres of the Northwest and Far West, it naturally answers the description of Short Line, and Best Line Route between
